

On Assignment Lab Support is proud of being where scientific professionals and opportunity come together. With over 20 years of experience serving scientific professionals, we have successfully launched careers for over 150,000 scientists. Because our focus is only on science, we have been successful in building a loyal and satisfied employee and client base. Our reach spans across the United States and throughout Europe. Our success comes from our approach to meeting our client's needs. We are capable of providing critical scientific talent at each stage of our client's product life cycle. Our service offerings start at Entry Level to higher-level Senior Scientist positions. We offer these positions on a contract or permanent basis, and serve a variety of industries.

It's an exciting time at On Assignment Lab Support, and I look forward to having you join our team of scientific professionals.

Regards,
